Palmer Historical Society Update—November 2010

November 17th Program to Feature Presentation by Jody Ellis-Knapp

This should be an interesting presentation as Ms. Knapp will discuss her book Ghosts of Alaska.
“From poltergeists to sightings of Sasquatch, Alaska has the scariest stories you can imagine. These tales of the Last Frontier will leave you shivering!”

Colony Christmas is Just Around the Corner

The Colony House Museum will open its doors wide at 10 A.M. on Saturday, December 11th, as part of Palmer’s community-wide Colony Christmas celebration. Visitors to the CHM will find a hospitality array of holiday goodies to sample in the kitchen along with a hot beverage of choice to warm chilled winter-kissed folk. More holiday treats and treasures will be found at the dining room BAKE SALE table to tempt visitors and Museum supporters. The Museum site will be decked out in a style of days past with many authentic vintage ornaments and other touches to walk us down memory lane, and two pianists are on standby to accompany all who gather to carol together around the 1895 Colony family piano. OPEN HOUSE HOURS—10:00A.M.--6:00 P.M.

Set-up preparation will be ongoing at the museum beginning Monday, December 6th, with an on-and-off schedule. Helping hands are welcome with energy and ideas...call Gerry at the CHM 745-1935 or at home 745-3703 for information. Our always wonderful and appreciated Baking Elves may deliver goodies beginning Thursday December 9th or by special arrangement.
